

Petroleum (etc)

The Landmark 10th Multiphase Measurement Roundtable (MMR) in San Antonio, Texas on May 20th and 21st, 2010. This user-driven forum provides an opportunity for representatives from the oil & gas operating companies, manufacturers, regulators, researchers, and students to come together and close the knowledge gap on multiphase technology.

Over the past ten years, we have seen MMR grow to become the premier event for multiphase measurement in the Americas and we invite you to participate in this user-driven forum!
